WEED SIGN UP WILL CLOSE IN COUNTY SAT.

1,200 Contracts Covering 80
Per Cent of Acreage
Are Signed

COMMITTEE ELECTIONS TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

With the closing date of the tobacco sign-up announced from Washington as Saturday, the Calloway county tobacco committee and John H. Bondurant, county agent, are expecting to have approximately 1,200 contracts covering 80 per cent of the tobacco acreage of the county signed.

Letters have been sent to all farmers who have not signed contracts urging them to sign before Saturday night. They should see a Smith-Hughes agricultural teacher or call at the county agent's office in the court house in Murray before the end of the week.

Elections of community committees will be held next week, and a control association formed to review and check contracts and put them into final form to send to Washington. Only contract signers will vote at the community elections, which will be held for magisterial districts as follows:

At 1 o'clock Monday at the Hazel school for the Hazel magisterial district; at 1 o'clock Tuesday at Kirtsey school for Brinkley district; at Concord school for the Concord district; at Faxon school for the Liberty district; at the Lynn Grove school for the Lynn Grove district; and at 1 o'clock Wednesday at the court house in Murray for the Murray magisterial district, and at the Almo school for the Wadesboro district.

A final appeal to growers to sign contracts before Saturday night was issued by Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky. The reduction plan has already helped growers by boosting prices 40 to 150 per cent over last year, he declares, in addition to the benefit payments which it provides for contract signers.

MUSIC WEEK WILL BE MARKED HERE

Series of Programs Beginning
Monday To Be Offered at College.

"National Music Week" is to be observed at Murray State College. The college orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Price Doyle, head of the music department, will give a concert Monday, April 2, at 8:15 p. m. This concert will be a part of the college music department's observance of "National Music Week." There are 48 members of the orchestra.

Under the direction of Miss Gwendolyn Haynes and Prof. Leslie R. Putnam, the college quartets and glee clubs will give a concert Tuesday, April 3, at 8:15 in the college auditorium.

As a part of the music department's observance of music week, the college band will give a concert Wednesday, April 4, at 8:15 p. m. in the college auditorium. Prof. William H. Fox and Prof. Franklin P. Ingalls are conductor and assistant conductor respectively. There are 65 members in the "Best Band in the S. I. A. A."

WEATHER CUT MONDAY CROWD

The unfavorable weather of Monday and the week end cut the Fourth Monday crowd here, but the numbers were in excess of expectations of Murray and a large crowd was present though smaller than the usual Fourth Monday in March. Rain drove the crowd into stores about noon and the visitors left early in the afternoon. The crowd was orderly with only four arrests being made by both county and city officers, all of which were for being drunk.

College Chorus To Give Easter Program Sunday

Directed by Prof. Leslie Putnam, the Murray College chorus will present an Easter choral program, "The Crucifixion" by Stainer, in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 1, at 8:30 o'clock.

The chorus will be assisted by the A Capella Choir and the college orchestra, with Miss Marjorie Barton accompanist at the piano.

"The Crucifixion" is ranked as one of the most beautiful of Easter oratorios, portraying the suffering and crucifixion of Christ and His last words on the cross.

The orchestration of the choral work was done by the class in orchestration under the direction of Prof. W. H. Fox, instructor in the music department. The whole concert is a student production, according to Professor Putnam who is director of the entire program.

Soloists for the Easter program are: Dead Dowdy, Mayfield, tenor; Loren Putnam, Murray, tenor; H. Calvin Smith, Murray, baritone; B. H. Duvall, Paris, Tenn., baritone; and Wilbur McClanahan, Springfield, Tenn., bass.

JAMES PATTERSON CALLED BY DEATH

Long Respected Citizen, Dies at Daughter's Home in Tennessee
Tuesday.

James A. Patterson, for more than fifty years one of the highest respected and most influential citizens of the east part of Calloway county, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, in Wynburg, Tenn. Had he lived seven more days Mr. Patterson would have been 89 years old.

He moved to this county from Henry county, Tenn., where he was born, as a young man and farmed continuously in this county until he retired on account of his age. He had made his home in Wynburg for the past two years.

Mr. Patterson was a member of the Hepebah Primitive Baptist Church and was, all of his life, a high type, honorable Christian gentleman with a host of admirers and friends. He was a long-time member of the Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by one son, Esq. W. A. Patterson, of Hyman; one daughter, Mrs. Nettie Ward of Wynburg; three sisters, Mrs. Alice Bennett, Buchanan, Mrs. Sarah Bennett, Paris and Mrs. Martha French, Henry county and one brother, William, also near Paris.

Funeral services were conducted at the graveside Wednesday noon by Elder Russell Scott and burial was in the Rataree graveyard.

GRAVEYARD CLEANING—All parties interested in the North Pleasant Grove Graveyard are urged to participate in the cleaning of same Saturday, April 7, beginning at one o'clock.

Home Owners Urged to Clean Up Premises

U. D. C.'s to Beautify Vacant
Lots and Murray Expected
Take on New Dress

Murray home and property owners are urged to follow the decree of city officials in the City Clean-up week set for April 9-14. City officials and health authorities are very anxious that each property owner do their part in cleaning up and beautifying their homes and property.

The clean up week is set both for the health interest of Murray and for the beauty and appearance of the city. Health conditions in Murray are not the best, according to Dr. J. A. Outland who states that dysentery and typhoid fever were present last year and they are born primarily of filth. In malaria rating the county has the highest in the state excepting the Mississippi River. Filth left around a home is dangerous to the whole community. The common carrier of disease germs, the house fly, breeds in filth and carries the germs it can collect wherever it goes.

The U. D. C.'s have the sanction of the city council and have secured the permission of vacant lot owners to beautify these lots to add to the beauty of the town. For the fullest realization of this every property owner must feel his duty to cooperate with the move to make Murray both more beautiful and more sanitary. The club women are soliciting bulbs, flowers and shrubs to use on the lots.

The city council has made arrangements for the removal of trash and litter from the homes of trash and litter from the homes of Home owners are expected to pile such on the street. All undesirable litter including old cans, jars, buckets, and most all useless items should be included with the ashes and other litter. Do not remove the ashes and feel like you have cleaned up your premises.

Dr. Outland, county health officer is urging that every home be completely and well scrubbed as the best means of controlling the disease spreading work of the house fly. Under the very best of sanitary conditions the fly will be exterminated.

COLLEGE ORATORS ADD 2 VICTORIES

Defeat Union and Southern Illinois Normal During Past Week.

Two more victories were added this week end to the string of debate successes won by the Murray College debating team. After defeating Union University at Jackson, Tenn., Thursday, March 22, the Murray varsity won a 3-0 decision here Friday night, March 23, over the debaters from Southern Illinois Normal University of Carbondale.

Dudley Porter, Paris, Tenn., and Joe Horrell, Bardwell, Ky., representing Murray on the negative, defeated Don Brummett and Harry Moss of Carbondale. The debates were on the proposition: Resolved that the powers of the president should be totally increased as a settled policy.

James Miller, Hazel, Ky., and Marion Burks, Eldorado, Ill., comprised Murray's team that defeated Union University at Jackson, Tenn. Murray also upheld the negative in this debate.

All four of Murray's victorious debaters were those who won the joint championship of the Mid-South Debating Tournament staged at Arkadelphia, Ark., last month.

Porter, a freshman, and Horrell, a sophomore, made their first home appearance Friday as Murray debaters. In their first inter-collegiate debating encounters, they won the joint championship of the Mid-South. Burks, a junior, and Miller, a sophomore, are the only members of Murray's squad who are veterans in intercollegiate debating.

DEBATE SCHEDULED

Elder Mitzel, Pentecostal minister and Elder Swope, Christian minister, have booked a debate to begin April 17 and to continue for three days. The debate will be held about three miles up the river from Pine Bluff in Stewart county.

Some men are known by their deeds, others by their mortgages.

W. O. W. PRESIDENT IS ACCORED HERE

City Is Mecca for Members of Order in Western Kentucky to Honor Chief.

De E. Bradshaw, president of the Woodmen of the World, fraternal insurance order, who was accompanied by his charming wife who was the guest of the Woodmen of the World in Western Kentucky in Murray over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw arrived in the city Saturday afternoon about four o'clock by motor and were met at the north limits of the city by a squad of motor cars, the city fire truck and the Murray State College band. He was escorted to the court house where he addressed a capacity audience of Woodmen from all over Western Kentucky. Several interesting drills were put on, particularly by the Madisonville team, despite the extremely unfavorable weather.

Saturday evening, Mr. Bradshaw addressed the Woodmen, their wives and friends in the Murray high school auditorium. The heavy rain and cold weather cut down the crowd somewhat below expectations.

Mayor W. S. Swann welcomed Mr. Bradshaw to Murray and Representative Wayne Rayburn welcomed him to Kentucky. Charles Clark, of Hopkinsville, responded to the welcome. Ralph Churchill entertained the audience before Mr. Bradshaw's address.

In a brief speech, Mr. Bradshaw gave his hearers a clear conception of the magnitude of the order and the work that had been accomplished.

He was presented to the huge audience in the Murray State College auditorium, gathered to hear the music contests before the W. O. W. meeting.

Mr. Bradshaw was the honor guest at a dinner given at the National Hotel Saturday evening by the local camp. H. T. Waldrop presided at the toastmaster. The Rev. H. W. Riggs was in charge of the services and burial was in the Old Salem Cemetery.

Mr. Miller is survived by four children, Mrs. Mary Lou Alexander, and Mrs. Irene Downs, of Murray, and Mrs. Mayme Cole, of Paducah. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Knight and Mrs. Guy Walker, of Stewart county, Tenn., and three brothers, Jim Miller, Paducah, and Pink Miller, of Stewart county, Tenn.

MRS. STEVE RHEA BURIAL FRIDAY

Beloved Matron Died Thursday;
Survived by Husband, Two Children.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy Langston Rhea, 57 years of age, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mt. Carmel Methodist church. The Rev. W. M. Vaughn was in charge of the services and burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Rhea died at her home four miles north of Kirtsey Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock. She was beloved by a host of friends and relatives and is survived by her husband, Steve Rhea, and two children, Opal and Almon Rhea. She also leaves two brothers, L. A. L. Langston and H. E. Langston and a sister, Mrs. Paris Exell, of near Kirtsey. She had been a member of the Methodist church since childhood.

Mrs. Rhea was the daughter of the late H. M. and Delilah Langston. She was married to Steve Rhea in 1899.

Several Macguffin county farmers pooled Korean lespedera seed orders and procured reduced prices. Henry Cain, Burning Fork community, sowed 700 pounds of treated seed threshed from three acres last year.

BIG MID-TERM ENROLLMENT IS EXPECTED

Record Number Anticipated
by Murray College for
New Term, April 2

122 COURSES TO BE OFFERED STUDENTS

Murray State College's mid-semester enrollment is expected to be one of the largest in the institution's history. Mid-semester will begin on April 2. Over 122 courses are to be offered in various departments in which the students and teachers may enter at this time. Over 1100 students are now on the campus.

Courses are so arranged that one may enter at mid-semester and finish them in the summer term, thus getting full credit, provided the prerequisites to the course have been completed. The extension department, under the direction of Prof. E. H. Smith, is so varied that one may take courses by correspondence with very little expense.

A ten week term will be held for the summer of 1934 at Murray College. President John W. Carr has announced.

Under unfair practices, the keeping of inaccurate or misleading or deceptive methods of determining costs is a violation.

No False Circulation
No establishment shall use advertising or other representation which is inaccurate in any material particular as to the character, services, terms, or quantity of its product, or printed matter, or the circulation or distribution thereof. In other words, from now on any false circulation claims are violations of this code.

No establishment shall make inaccurately, secretly or otherwise, any rebate, and shall not deliver a product on consignment except under a signed contract.

No establishment shall give or offer, secretly or otherwise, any rebate, allowance, premium, free goods, refund, commission, term of credit, unearned discount, special service, or other valuable consideration which is discriminating as between customers of the same class. No establishment shall offer any form of commercial bribery. Nor shall they make any threats of lawsuits against competitors or their customers.

FAY MILLER, 58, DIES SUDDENLY

Death Came Friday Evening at Home of Lawton Alexander;
Leaves Four Children.

Fay Miller, 58 years of age, died suddenly Friday evening at the home of Lawton Alexander. Mr. Miller had suffered with cancer of the throat for some time but had been up during the day and apparently as well as usual. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Church Hill Funeral Home.

Mr. Miller is survived by four children, Mrs. Mary Lou Alexander, and Mrs. Irene Downs, of Murray, and Mrs. Mayme Cole, of Paducah. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Knight and Mrs. Guy Walker, of Stewart county, Tenn., and three brothers, Jim Miller, Paducah, and Pink Miller, of Stewart county, Tenn.

Mr. Miller was a member of the Port Henry Church of Christ. The pallbearers were: Irvin Fair, C. W. Drinkard, C. R. Broach, E. M. Wear, Hoyt Linn, and Sammy Downs.

County Grade Schools Out

The grade schools of Calloway county high schools were dismissed Friday evening for the spring and summer vacation. Some 400 students were enrolled in the grade department of the seven county high schools. The high schools will continue for two months. The high school terms in the county schools were recently extended for one month as the result of the securing of a loan from federal funds.

Teacher Pay Bill Vetoed by Laffoon

FRANKFORT, Ky., Mar. 22—Governor Ruby Laffoon today vetoed a bill appropriating approximately $784,000 to pay advanced school teachers under the invalidated equalization fund act.

Lack of funds and unconstitutional provisions were given as reasons. Calloway county teachers would have received about $32,000 under provisions of the bill.

CODE OF FAIR COMPETITION for Small Town Newspapers and Job Printing Plants

Wages for non-mechanical employees in cities of 50,000 to 250,000 population or in the immediate trade area shall not be less than $13 per week; in cities of 25,000 to 50,000 not less than $12.00 per week; and in places of less than 25,000 wages in effect July 1, 1933, shall be increased by not less than 20 per cent, provided this shall not require wages in excess of $11.00 per week.

Minimum hourly wages for skilled mechanical employees in towns of less than 25,000 population and in which the job printing, exclusive of circulation and advertising, was less than $50,000 in 1933 shall be: Compositors 60c; operators 60c; job pressmen 48c; cylinder feeders 35c. The schedule covers many other classifications of specialized work. In towns of over 50,000 or where the commercial printing, exclusive of advertising and subscriptions, run over $50,000, there is an increased wage.

Forty Hour Week
The standard work week shall be 40 hours for all mechanical employees, including proprietors and all others. When necessary, overtime shall be permitted, provided that no more than 520 hours shall be worked in any 13 week period. However, up to a 48-hour week is permitted where additional competent mechanics are not available, and where it is necessary to work overtime to complete work.

Selling below cost is strictly prohibited under the code. Establishments must have a cost system which will show actual costs, or must base prices on an accepted cost accounting method in use, which in the latter case is understood to mean the Franklin Printing Catalogue or a similar cost accounting method.

Under unfair practices, the keeping of inaccurate or misleading or deceptive methods of determining costs is a violation.

No False Circulation
No establishment shall use advertising or other representation which is inaccurate in any material particular as to the character, services, terms, or quantity of its product, or printed matter, or the circulation or distribution thereof. In other words, from now on any false circulation claims are violations of this code.

No establishment shall make inaccurately, secretly or otherwise, any rebate, and shall not deliver a product on consignment except under a signed contract.

No establishment shall give or offer, secretly or otherwise, any rebate, allowance, premium, free goods, refund, commission, term of credit, unearned discount, special service, or other valuable consideration which is discriminating as between customers of the same class. No establishment shall offer any form of commercial bribery. Nor shall they make any threats of lawsuits against competitors or their customers.

$500 Fine Imposed

No establishment shall induce or attempt to induce the breach of an existing contract between an establishment and its employees or customers, nor shall it appropriate any design of a competitor.

No establishment shall make a fictitious bid for the purpose of misleading or deceiving a customer or competitor. Nor shall it accept an order for a large quantity of its products and make delivery in small amounts at quantity prices, which will tend toward a special privilege not extended toward all customers of the same class.

The price to be charged for legal publications shall be the statutory rate, and failure to make such charge shall constitute a violation of this code. Violators of any provisions of the code are subject to a fine of not to exceed $500 or imprisonment for not to exceed six months, or both.

MRS. MARY CRASS BURIAL SUNDAY

Death Came to Aged Countess at

Douglas High Notes

The intermediate grades of Douglas High school are planning a carnival to be held at the school building April 6 and 7th to raise funds. These funds will be used to further the work in this department. Everyone is invited to come.

The Lady Duff Gordon Style Review which was to be given at Douglas High school Friday evening, March 30, has been indefinitely postponed.

The Athletic Association is presenting to the public another of its famous minstrelsy. Every one is invited to attend. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

The Parent-Teachers Association will hold its regular meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school building.

What Price Relief?

Hickman Courier, March 22. Relief for the unemployed and destitute is almost at a standstill this week in most Kentucky counties and will come to an absolute end next week in every county in the state, unless Governor Laffoon immediately calls a special session of the legislature to raise the 15 per cent of relief money the federal government has demanded the past 18 months or the federal government has a change of heart and decides to continue footing the entire bill for relief work.

It is evident that the federal government is entirely justified in demanding that Kentucky do its part. During the past 18 months the federal government has poured $21,000,000 into Kentucky to relieve the unemployed and destitute, while Kentucky has spent about $440,000 for the same purpose. It is true that some cities and counties have also contributed, but most of the cities and counties in Kentucky are now unable to contribute.

Early last fall a special session was called to raise funds for the relief work, upon the insistence of the federal government. Politics wrecked that session. They fooled around and finally passed some beer and whiskey taxes. Congressman John Young Brown charged in a recent address that the special session was purposely prolonged so that the distillers could get their whiskey out of Kentucky warehouses, so the taxes produced little revenue. Mr. Brown said the distillers got fooled, as they took the whiskey to Pennsylvania, and had a higher tax slapped on it there, for relief purposes, but that does not help the needy of Kentucky.

The regular session of the legislature which closed last Thursday night knew that the federal government had said that they would close down if the state did not do something. Governor Laffoon knew it. Yet no real effort was made to arrange for any revenue for relief purposes. Is it possible that the Governor and his administration, the leaders of the legislature and those who pull the strings from behind the scenes, were more interested in playing petty personal politics than they were in the well being of 90,000 Kentucky families. From past performances the Courier is reluctantly forced to answer in the affirmative.

It looks very much like the politicians were preparing the stage to cram the sales tax down the throats of the people of Kentucky, whether they want it or not. A sales tax collected through the merchants would provide a lot more jobs for politicians. It would give them a lot more money to spend and a lot more patronage to dispense. What do cheap politicians care for the good of the people when they see a chance to build up their machine? There are other ways to raise this money. Why did not the legislature let the taxes from the open sale of whiskey and other intoxicants, legalized on the ground they were for "medicinal" purposes, go to the relief instead of to the general fund? That would have raised quite a little money.

We think it is time the people of Kentucky woke up. We think it would be an excellent idea to circulate petitions in every county in the state, getting a million signatures, if possible, demanding that the Governor call a special session of the legislature at once and demanding that the legislature raise revenue for relief purposes at once without enacting the sales tax. The sales tax is not necessary, no matter what the politicians say. If the administration and its legislature had followed the advice of Griffiths and Associates, the distinguished experts who were hired to survey and audit the state government, there would be enough savings to provide for relief with very little additional revenue. But no, they had to play politics with that $80,000,000 and keep the taxpayers saddled with an expensive, wasteful and out of date spoils system of political government.

Don't forget that while Kentucky's per capita tax is low, we have the highest per capita overhead. That means simply the most costly political jobs and the most waste in high places. Every effort has been made to fool the people of the state. The legislature enacted a bill cutting the state tax on real estate from 50 cents on the hundred to five cents. The original bill cut the tax only on farm and homesteads, which provided needed relief for the farmers and home owners, BUT the bill that was passed and signed by the Governor cut the tax on ALL real estate, including railroads, factories, mines, business property, oil wells, etc. AND the biggest loser was the common school fund. Politics at the expense of the children of the state!

After wasting most of its last two weeks in a foolish contest with the acting editor of the Courier-Journal over who wrote a certain letter that appeared in that paper, the legislature patted itself on the back before it adjourned and blamed the Governor for lack of accomplishment. Did the pot call the kettle black? We do not know. It is true that the legislature enacted some constructive legislation, such as the country reform measures, the school code, loan shark bill and others, but they also turned down the compulsory primary bill, enacted the "tipper" administration reorganization bill, etc. At any rate the government of Kentucky is out of step with the "New Deal" at Washington, but the people of the state are solidly behind President Roosevelt. The only practical thing the Courier can see for the people to do now is to circulate petitions in every county and force the politicians to come across with what is right and proper for our unemployed and destitute and for our schools also.

We are starting out on a road so new that we have got to make up our maps as we go along.

Why Not Buy Your Electrical Appliances NOW!

All wives know that Spring housecleaning means more than the proverbial "pain in the neck." It means an ache in every muscle, a crick in every joint, a raw edge to every nerve, plus a curdled temper, for several days and nights.

But you can be rid of all that and you can do a much better job of housecleaning if you'll use electrical servants.

NOW is the time to buy useful, efficient, economical electrical appliances of all kinds. We do not insist that you buy them from us. We tell you frankly to buy standard, reliable appliances from any reliable dealer anywhere you choose.

Your electrical dealer will give you good values—buy now before prices rise higher, as they must, as the general price trend rises.

YOUR HOME is no less Important than Your Bank Deposit

Under the new Bank Deposit Law, the safety of your account in an "insured" bank is guaranteed up to $2,500—secure against mismanagement, embezzlement or other contingency. But what of your home, your car and other possessions totaling in value perhaps many times your cash in bank. They are in greater jeopardy, subject as they are to hazards of fire, windstorm, explosion, automobile collision and other vagaries of fate.

How much more important is it to cover such property with dependable insurance. It is so inexpensive... a mere fraction of the loss against which it protects you.

This office can efficiently and economically take care of this vital matter for you. We are equipped to advise you on all insurance questions.

Politics in Kentucky

When I first entered the newspaper business in 1922, the "Frankfort crowd" was the Jockey Club. Shortly afterward, when Barkley and Cantrill fought it out for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1923, the "crowd" was the coal interests of Kentucky.

For the past few years it has been the "bi-partisan ring" which is the bi-product of the wonderful theory, proposed about a dozen years ago, that bi-partisan board would rid the state, forever of corrupt partisan politics. The result is too well known to need comment.

Back before the "Jockey Club" it was something else and back before the "Frankfort crowd" it was the "L. & N. Railroad crowd." I have heard my father discuss intimately all the ramifications of Kentucky politics since the turn of the century and through what I have learned from him and my observations and experience of the past twelve years I think I have a fairly accurate picture of the background of Kentucky politics as she is played.

During all this time there has been a "vested interest" in the "Jockey Club" and the "L. & N. Railroad crowd." A good many of those aligned with the reform crowd have been genuinely interested in bringing honest and efficient government to Kentucky. However, it must be realized that the only difference between a large element turning itself into a "reform" group and the "vested interests," the bi-partisan crowd, the Jockey Club crew, or whatnot, is that the former is "out" and "wanting to get in," and the latter is "in" and "wanting to stay in."

The Courier-Journal is the official spokesman for the "out" crowd that wants to get "in." The trouble in Kentucky is not with the Jockey Club, the Utilities, the railroads, the bi-partisan crowd. The trouble is with the manifestations of the inward body. The trouble is with the outward body of the body politic caused by a fundamental, organic disease of the inward body. We are too much looking at the result rather than the cause.

The Courier-Journal and its crowd cannot lead us out of the wilderness for it is too largely motivated by the same impulses as the crowd now festering upon us.

The Courier-Journal is right, however, in saying:—

"Encouraged by the example of a National Administration at Washington which is throwing off the chains of old-fashioned politics, the young voters of Kentucky have reason to believe that their State can declare its independence from the politicians of both parties who have long dominated its existence. Such a belief is idealistic, as youth is idealistic. But only idealism and the strength of youth are capable of pulling down the rotten system that the political bosses have been building for twenty-five years under the eyes of the older generation of Kentuckians."

I repeat, however, that there is no advantage in swapping one machine for another. Personally, I had about as soon have the machine that is at Frankfort as a machine sponsored and operated by the Courier-Journal.

We will not get better government in Kentucky, or anywhere else for that matter, until voters quit voting for a man because he got his son Willie a job with the highway department or the brother-in-law a job in one of the asylums, or because he kissed the baby and patted little Johnnie on the head and said he is a handsome boy because he favors his mother and must be smart in school because he takes after his dad.

We will never get efficient and honest government until we vote for a man because he is honest and efficient and quit voting for those who violate every promise and pledges, then win us back by more honeyed phrases and promises just like he gave us before. The people's memories are too short and we are too susceptible to flattery and a smooth tongue. As long as people live we will have public servants who will play false to their trust. What we need is a major operation on the human nature but that cannot be done. However, instead of abandoning the fight as hopeless, we should endlessly seek to direct human nature in the proper direction.

Frankly, I have grown quite cynical of the crowd that claims a monopoly on virtue and honesty and brands the "other crowd" as thieves, crooks and villains out of the whole cloth. I do not trust the "holier-than-thou" people. As Shakespeare said, "Methinks they doth protest too much."

Strictly demanded an accounting of our public servants and don't be too generous with your forgiveness when they go astray and we'll have better government in Kentucky. We shall not have it by merely trading one crowd for another, and especially when the other crowd is "The Courier-Journal crowd."

Prof. Spiritus Frumentii Says

What a grand opportunity for some energetic young man to open a correspondence school with diplomas issued after six lessons at a dollar each, the main course being to teach Kentuckians the art of registering mental facts when "presenting themselves at a liquor vendor's, Cynthia's Democrat."

JUST JOTS

By Joe

Senator Tom Turner has suggested an excellent new political phrase for Kentucky, "Polk in and ask Galvin."

The Kentucky Retail Merchants Association sends a four-page mimeographed letter to a member in Murray who gave it to us without asking publication. A blue strip appended to the top of the first page says, "Be sure and see that this goes in your local paper and advise us whether it is accepted or refused; and if possible send a copy of the paper to this office." Well, Mr. Association, this newspaper refuses it. How do you like that?

An organization will ask a newspaper for $25 worth of free publicity and try to get somebody to put pressure on the newspaper to print it, preferably a local advertiser. Newspapers have too long been hamstrung by this racket to stand for it any longer. We could print forty pages a week if we used all the propaganda and special interests' junk that comes in this office and then, when we got out the paper, not a single person in Calloway county would want to read it.

Local people have the right to use the "Public Voice" column of this newspaper to discuss matters of local, public interest and state affairs when such matters vitally affect this community. We're nobody's propaganda puppet. The high-pressure publicity birds who draw handsome salaries for talking unsuspecting country papers out of costly space can state postage and paper for cigarette money or toss it at a gay little bird that warbles in the springtime.

I'm afraid I'm getting to be a common scold in this column. The excitement of a legislative session always gets everybody in a turmoil and I'll try to be calmer in the future.

General Motors has 351,000 stockholders but more appreciates buyers than stockholders.

Murray was signally honored last Friday by the visit of Dr. William Hutchins, president of Berea College. Dr. Hutchins' fame as the father of the youthfully brilliant president of the University of Chicago is the least. As president of Berea he has wrought one of the greatest educational accomplishments in the history of Kentucky and is one of the nation's most distinguished and respected leaders. We surmise that young Dr. Hutchins of Chicago, has risen so loftily and so rapidly largely through the heritage and precepts received from his father.

Newspaper men like lawyers often fight bitterly on the opposite sides of the political fence and yet are the closest of personal friends. John Young Brown has no stunner defender like the state than Col. Harry Sommers, the venerated editor of The Elizabethtown News and no sharper or abler critic than Joe Richardson, the brilliant and hard-hitting young editor of The Glasgow Times. Yet the friendship of Col. Sommers and Joe is one of the strongest among the editors of the commonwealth.

I never get sore at a man who disagrees with me so long as I believe he is motivated by sincerity and is actuated by honesty. Voltaire once said a thing that is a favorite with me. "I may not agree with a single word you say but I will have to the death for your right to say it."

I haven't any patience with a person who is always accusing all four angles of different opinion of insincerity. If you will get out your old McGuffey Reader, I've forgotten which one, and read that little poem, "The Six Blind Men of Hindustan," you'll get what I mean.

Young Henry Ward, a new day.

paper man who went to the legislature, is thoroughgoing of spirit with what he saw going on at Frankfort during the session. A newspaper man who gets in politics with the aim of rendering an unselfish public service generally ends up disappointed and disillusioned about what he can accomplish. When I entered the newspaper game 12 years ago I determined that I would never offer for any public office, elective or appointive, and I have never had anything to alter that policy.

Advertising may be news. There are a lot of smooth boys who can present the case brilliantly. Some time ago a publicity hound for some life insurance company sent the editor of the Jackson, Miss., Daily News a wonderful article on Life Insurance with the following note appended, "50,000,000 people in the United States are interested in life insurance." The editor replied, "120,000,000 people in the United States are interested in ham and eggs but is that any reason why I should give free advertising to 'ham and eggs'?"

The bride of the emperor of Annam who gave up her religion to do what she wished is not the first person to compromise religion when it stood in the way of desire.

Don't blame the church for something done by a hypocritical cuss who sets himself up as a pillar in the church. Blame the individual who commits the fraud.

The bulk of advertising nowadays is cigarettes, coffee, whiskey and beer; which explains why the country editor is so much poorer than his city cousin.

JUDGE ALLIE YOUNG

I sold Judge Allie W. Young, Morehead, Ky., 500 pounds of Korean seed, from Trigg county farm, and 100 pounds of Serotia Leodeia seed to be sown upon Judge Young's farm in Rowan and Bath counties.

Judge Young has some fine lands on the Licking River and is a breeder of Hereford cattle, Southdown sheep and high grade burley tobacco. Judge Young served on the circuit court bench in his district for some time with credit.

Judge Young was a prominent lawyer for large coal companies and railroads, but when he was elected to the State Senate from his district 14 years ago, he surrendered all his retainer fees, amounting to $25,000 per year, so that he could serve his district.

university. This is a step many office holders do not take, but few state officials are as conscientious as Senator Young and none are more true to the interests of the common people of our state. He will come back as often as he wishes without opposition.

Judge Allie Young was the originator of the law and the organization that created the Morehead and Murray colleges in Eastern and Western Kentucky. He brought in to this organization Rainey T. Wells, who suggested that Murray was the ideal place to establish the Western Kentucky school and none dare to dispute it.

Old Friends Meet at Mr. B. S. Allbritten's

Last Thursday the friends and neighbors of the Hickory Grove community were invited to an old fashioned barn raising at B. S. Allbritten's.

The men worked busy until about 11:30 o'clock when the divided into two teams and began to pull on the ropes.

The barn was finished about five o'clock and no one seemed to think of the hard work they had done, but all were glad they had the privilege of being with old friends again.

Those present were: W. H. Perry, Herbert Mason, Perry, Virgil Cochran, Jack Cochran, Robert Cochran, D. B. Lassiter, Loman Garner, Hatten Garner, A. A. Jackson, Buford Houston.

Cecil Houston, Walter Lassiter, Leeman Nix, J. F. Smith, Buel McKenzie, Horace McKenzie, Edgar Broach, J. L. Wilcox, Rupert Holland, Farmer Culppeper.

Tobacco Appraisal Rule Made by AAA

Farmers who have signed production adjustment contracts, but who still retain on their farms a part of their 1933 crop, must have at least 10 per cent of last year's crop in order to obtain an appraisal, according to a ruling of the tobacco section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Since the first benefit payment will be based on the value of the 1933 crop, unsold tobacco would require appraising for weight and value. No such appraisal will be allowed, however, according to the AAA, where a farmer holds less than 10 per cent of the merchantable part of his 1933 crop.

The appraisal will be arranged in April, according to the arrangement of the tobacco sections of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to the College of Agriculture.

WARNER BAXTER AT THE CAPITOL FRIDAY-SATURDAY

Jesse L. Lasky's latest production under the Fox Film banner, "As Husbands Go," comes to the Capitol Theatre to stay for a special engagement of two days.

Warner Baxter has the featured role and is supported by a group of notable stage and screen stars that includes Helen Vinson, Warner Oland, Catharine Doucet, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Frank O'Connor, Eleanor Lynn and Jay Ward.

"As Husbands Go" is a picture close to the heart of every man and woman who has tried to combine the devotion of marriage with the piquancy of romance.

It projects all the comedy, the heart-warming understanding, all the untheatrical sacrifice of genuine people who honestly seek to make their lives attractive. It is a story that will strike a responsive in people of every type and every station in life.

The film is an adaptation of Rachel Crothers' famous play, and was directed by Hamilton MacFadden. Sonya Levien wrote the screen play, with additional dialogue provided by Sam Behrman.

Following the barn raising, Buel McKenzie gave a musical to end the day with happy hearts, but on account of the rain many did not get to attend.

BECAUSE IT LUBRICATES D-X Guarantees Extra Mileage or Your MONEY BACK

This sensational money-back guarantee is made possible because D-X is entirely different from ordinary gasolines. D-X is a lubricating motor fuel made by an exclusive and patented process. IT LUBRICATES—provides needed protection to the valves, piston rings, upper cylinder walls. The result is faster, smoother running motors with a logical increase in miles per gallon. D-X mileage has been checked by thousands of cars traveling millions of miles under all conditions. It truly does deliver EXTRA MILEAGE!

MAKE THE D-X MILEAGE TEST

(It is a daring challenge backed by an honest cash refund bond)

The D-X Mileage Test is the most daring challenge ever presented the American motoring public. It is an honest guarantee of extra quality—of extra mileage performance, backed by a bond which agrees to refund you the money you spend for D-X in making the test, if any gasoline at any price exceeds D-X in mileage. Let D-X prove itself to you, in your own car. Simply drive to any D-X or Diamond station and ask the agent for full particulars. The test is simple . . . easy to make. There are no "strings" to the offer, and you alone are the sole judge of D-X value and performance. If D-X loses the test, your money will be refunded in full. If D-X wins, you win also, by saving the money you have been spending for less economical fuels. You can't lose. Drive in today!

MID-CONTINENT PETROLEUM CORPORATION

D-X MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE BOND

BECAUSE it lubricates . . . because it is different from ordinary gasoline, D-X is sold on a fair and square money-back guarantee. Make an honest test of D-X in your own car . . . compare it with any gasoline on the market. If, after trying it, you are convinced that some other brand, regardless of price, exceeds D-X in mileage, the money you paid for the initial trial will be refunded in full.

Diamond 760 Motor Oil

The last word in safe, economical automobile operation is achieved by those who use both D-X and its worthy companion product—Diamond 760 Motor Oil. Diamond 760—the pioneer heat resisting lubricant, provides efficient lubrication at lowest cost per mile because it goes farther and lasts longer.

Mrs. Lawrence Swift, Highland Park, Honored

On Friday evening, March 23, a group of Highland Parkers, led by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Glenn Baker, showered their way into the home of Mrs. Lawrence Swift with confetti, laughter and gifts. The honoree has been in Highland Park since her marriage in December and was gladly welcomed by her friends.

The hostess had a number of games arranged and prizes were won by the following: Mrs. May Fields, Miss Fay Holland, Mrs. Swift, and Mrs. Rudolph Taylor.

A lovely ice course was served after the opening of the gifts.

Those present were: Mrs. Walter Gilbert, Mrs. May Fields, Mrs. Edgar Morris, Mrs. Kennedy Combs, Mrs. Kenneth Baker, Mrs. Glenn Baker, Mrs. Rudolph Taylor and Mrs. Lawrence Swift.

The bride was before her marriage Miss Fulane Gilbert, the hostess, Mrs. Glenn Baker, was formerly Miss Louise Gilbert. Both are well known in Murray.

Miss Dyer Awarded Scholarship

Miss Ova Sue Dyer, junior of Sedalia High school, was awarded a scholarship at the International Tournament at Murray for the years 1934, 1935, 1936 for having won first place over eleven C class schools in piano solo.

Miss Dyer is an accomplished pupil of Mrs. W. S. Lockridge of Mayfield and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Dyer. Miss Dyer recently won second prize in a "Miss Western Kentucky and Tennessee" beauty contest.

Surprise Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rogers were the surprised recipients of a birthday dinner and family reunion at their home, two miles north of Lynn Grove, on Sunday, March 25. They were celebrating Mrs. Rogers' 57th birthday which was March 23.

When Mr. and Mrs. Rogers returned from a drive Sunday morning, they found that several of the unexpected guests had arrived; and the table was being loaded with food from the boxes brought by the visitors.

Those present during the day were:

A Tribute

The hearts of many in Murray and Calloway county are saddened by the death last week of Mrs. Y. B. Williams, one of the loveliest Christian characters of this city. Mrs. Williams was born here, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cole and had married here and lived here all her life.

An influence for truth, loyalty and beauty emanated from her. Her spirit was both gentle and gallant—a challenge and an inspiration to her friends. By birth and marriage she was connected with pioneer families of Calloway county. For the past 18 years, she with her husband and son had made their home with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bueh Thornton Houston, ministering most lovingly to her, and blessed by her counsel and devotion to them. Four generations, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Williams, and Harding Cole Williams have had together a most unusual and beautiful experience, which was broken by her passing to the Heavenly Bank.

The Kingdom of God was first in the life of Mrs. Williams. Her home was the center of her interest, but not its circumference. Her joys, sorrows, duties, and responsibilities were met in the Jesus Way.

An ideal and idolized daughter and granddaughter, a loving and beloved wife, an adored and adoring mother—a true friend. Many rise up and call her blessed.

Mrs. Williams' most intimate friendships were made in her own church and in the women's organization of the First Christian Church. Her faithfulness, sound judgment were proverbial. She had often held positions of responsibility and leadership but preferred always to cooperate rather than dictate. Always she was a sister not a leader.

Memory of her sweet reasonableness, her pervasive sympathy, her happy heartedness, her unquestioned loyalty to family, Church and friends through the years will remain a benediction.

Stella Gossip

Mrs. Nannie Pullen is suffering with nervous trouble and Mrs. Don Hill has the "flu".

Mrs. Alderice, mother of Errol Brady, is afflicted with lung disease.

Harvey W. Riggs will preach at Coldwater Sunday at 2:30 p. m. and L. Z. Hurley at Goshen at 11:30 a. m.—first day and first Sunday in April.

Mrs. Alice Hughes of Brown's Grove is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Cochran this week.

Theron Crouch broke his arm drinking a "Ford" that means his old (73) dad will have to take charge of the plow handles.

Olan Story, Red Ray and Jim Cochran have bought fine radios. Now they get messages from New York or New Orleans as it were in a twinkling of an eye. How wonderful!

Sam Cristenberry was a witness in that road law suit. When they "swore him in" he held up his left hand. Yet, it takes a monkey 500 years to become a man—but a man can become a monkey in a minute.

I can remember when there wasn't a bridge from Farmington to Murray and not a music instrument in any church house in Calloway county.

The first one that I saw was a fiddle in old Stone's Chapel by a Mr. Bailey. Old men shook their heads and remarked, "What a shame".

Three Irishmen were in a church house. They were taking up a collection and one of the Irishmen fainting and the other two carried him out!

The R. F. C. and C. T. V. and A. A. A. and W. X. Y. Z. and radio stations have used up all the "letters" here is. Now we will resort to the Greek alphabet. Have rheumatism in me right leg, tried to put on me sock and fell across a rocking chair—a total wreck!—"Eagle"

Co. To Give Away Valuable Booklet

The Murray Lumber Company has just received a limited number of copies of a booklet published by the Hanna Paint Manufacturing Company. This booklet will be distributed free of charge to all persons interested in beautifying their homes. The title of the book is "Beauty" and in it are many helpful suggestions which will prove extremely valuable to the housewife.

The interior and exterior of the home. The book is beautifully illustrated in color with paintings by a well known artist and it treats upon various subjects such as wall tints, exterior finishes, finishing floors, color schemes and the many things to consider when thinking of painting or decorating.

A copy of the book may be secured by calling at the store of The Murray Lumber Company but as the number of copies is very limited it will be best to secure your copy just as soon as possible.

Hazel F. F. A. Notes

By Edmond Cherry
The monthly night meeting of Hazel Chapter of Future Farmers was held Wednesday, March 21. Plans for a welter roast April 2 were made. The club has paid its state and national dues and money on membership to the State and National organization. The following officers for 1934-35 were elected:

The Future Farmers are entering the Courier-Journal essay contest and also the Future Farmers' public speaking contest. The Chapter's next meeting will be April 11.

Gunter's Flat

Well! The big day (fourth Monday) is over. There sure was a large crowd there, even if it was a bad day. The crowd was orderly and every thing went off nicely as far as I know.

Was sorry to learn of the death of our friend, Leonard Adams who died in Paris, France, last Sunday night. He formerly lived near Hazel, just moving to Tennessee place Christmas. The funeral rites were held at South Pleasant Grove, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Adams of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole.

Lynn Grove High

Last week closed the work of the first six grades for this term. Records show an excellent percentage of attendance for the various grades. The first grade under Mrs. A. H. H. had an average of 90.62 per cent for the whole term; Miss Ford's second and third grade pupils an average of 94 per cent; Miss McDaniel with the fourth and part of the fifth presents an attendance record of 93.16 per cent for her room; Miss Miller's room, the fifth and sixth grade, the highest average, 95.3 per cent being the record shown. We are hoping that these students will come back to school next term with as much attendance as seal as has been shown this term.

A number of representatives of Lynn Grove High took part in the District Interscholastic Tourney held at M. S. T. C. last week end.

Charles Baugh and Clara Kemble Crawford were each granted a scholarship in music for having placed first in the bass and mezzo-soprano solos in Class C. Both shown this term.

CAMP MURRAY CHATTERS

The regular Thursday night social was postponed on the account of the death of Mrs. Y. B. Williams.

Camp Murray was indeed sorry to hear the sad news that came to her family, and extends her heart-felt sympathy to each member of her family.

Yester Service
Prof. L. D. Williams of the First Christian Church, delivered a message Sunday at 4 p. m., on "The Burdens of Life."

About 60 Camp members were out to hear Professor Williams' message. They appreciated his message very much and extend their thanks to him.

Inspection
In spite of the stormy weather Monday, General Julian Lindsey of Fort Knox, made his inspection according to schedule.

This inspection determines whether we keep the Honor Flag another month or let some other Camp have it.

Considering the weather, the Camp was in excellent shape and showed many improvements to General Lindsey's previous inspection.

Camp Murray has great hopes of keeping the Honor Flag even though the Weather Men was against her.

Hazel Route 3
A gloomy Fourth Monday. Most of the men have gone to Murray despite the weather.

We don't need that call the Joter related to last week, in our sewing circle. We catch gossip enough being normal, however its the harm that is done.

Mrs. Tomp Wilson entertained with a quilting the 14th. Two beautiful quilts were completed. One of the Butterfly design, and the other a sugar loaf.

Mrs. Curtis Craig and Mrs. Riley Wilson quilted a Wedding Ring each last week.

Mrs. Collie Stubblefield spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Noe Lamb.

George Osborn spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Clark.

Mrs. Ace Simmons and daughter, Miss Sybil, visited Mrs. Lunt Clark, Thursday March 15th.

Miss Mattie Frances St. John spent Saturday night with Miss Rozelle Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunt Clark were in Murray, Tuesday, shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Osborn and children, Elaine, Frances and Herbert, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Osborn.

Miss Ella Burton and Miss Pearl Clark spent Friday night with Miss Estelle Osborn.

There has been lots of sickness around here but most every one is improving at this writing. Mr. Edgar Cooper and Mrs. Ada Carter are still on the sick list.

We are all hoping for better weather now as the 40th day of bad weather has gone by (since Clyde Manning saw his shadow).

Theron Crouch broke his arm the other day trying to start his Ford.

Monuments to the Beloved
SHOULD BE WORTHY OF THE TRUST OF SHOWING OUR LAST ACT OF LOVE AND APPRECIATION FOR THEM.

Only quality, stately stones of the finest granite and marble can satisfy your desire to show the fine and noble sentiments held for your loved ones who have passed away. Fine monuments have been the custom of the ages for the showing of respect for the dead.

ANNOUNCEMENT—The Murray Marble Works is now owned and operated by Goldie Orr, who has been connected with the firm for four years. Mr. Orr took over the stock of Wesley Waldrop on March 1, 1934, and the corporation of Murray Marble Works was dissolved.

A fully experienced dealer in stones and monuments, Mr. Orr solicits the patronage of this county and district.

YEARS OF SERVICE
The Murray Marble Works and its present personnel are all veterans of the business who strive in every piece of work to maintain a high standard of work set in the beginning by this firm. We not only wish to sell you, but wish to please you.

CHOICE OF STONES
We are prepared to erect for you the exact type of stone you desire and at the cost you desire. An impressive stone can be had for $75.00, with an upward range for more elaborate and larger stones. Small markers of quality from $10.00 up.

PROMPT ATTENTION
Your order is given prompt attention with us and delivery and erection is completed at the earliest possible moment. Full time stone workers and complete equipment enable us to give you uniform and satisfactory service. We take great pride in placing impressive markers.

Hardin High School

By Ed Kellow
The debating team lost to the Lone Oak negative team by the vote of 2-1. The judges were Dr. H. H. Austin, and Dr. Drennon. Those representing Hardin were Hulen Washam, Ed Kellow, and Dallas Lancaster.

Benton has been challenged for a post-season debate to decide the championship of Marshall county but they have not answered the challenge as yet.

"The Henpecked Hero" went over with a bang. A large crowd was present, even if the weather was bad. Mr. Holland and Miss Smith should be congratulated for helping such a swell play along. The play will probably be given elsewhere by the same cast soon.

The characters were as follows: Helen Hallmark, a senior at college, Edna Earle Anderson, Dorla Dantlett, another senior, Mabel Brown, Bortsky, a rushing Russian, Adrian Conner, Barker, a defective detective, Ed Kellow, Ted Slouch, football coach, David Booker.

William Brown, a meek professor, Coleman Jones, Iantha, his young wife, Billie Jones, Mrs. Holden, the mother-in-law, Ruth Ann Cope, Lily, the beautiful Russian dancer, Nelva Gay, Bud Cedman, the cause of it all, Joe Edd Cope, Countess Kolmanoff, Willie Mae Lyles.

The Hardin Blue Eagles tried to start baseball Thursday afternoon but at the end of two and one-half innings the Blue Eagles and the Greyhounds 5-2 but rain halted further competition. Cope was on the mound for Hardin while Culp was doing the twirling for the Reiland nine.

The regular Hardin lineup includes Brown on the mound, Smith behind the plate, Cope as first, Ferguson on second, Martin on third, Crosby at short, with Jones, Trimble, and Posner in the outfield.

Hardin's schedule to date follows: March 27, Gilbertsville, here, March 29, Heath, here, April 3, Calvert, here, April 6, Lone Oak, here, April 10, Reiland, here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts, and children, visited her mother, Mrs. John Ladd and Mr. Ladd near Hardin, Sunday.

Mrs. Laura Hopkins and grandchildren visited relatives at Paducah last week.

Tax Galloway spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scudder Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and daughter of Paducah, visited her sister, Mrs. Tazzie Taylor, and Mr. Taylor, Sunday.

Little Miss Betty Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Roberts, spent Sunday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Beale.

Mrs. B. B. Imes, Mrs. B. H.

Almo News
John Puckett, who was making his home with his son, Walter, died at the Clinic-Hospital Friday, March 23. He was buried near Canton, Saturday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Foster Friday, March 23. She has been named Dorothy Lee.

Miss Flo Imes, who is teaching in Paducah, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Imes, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Phillips and children, and Miss Evelyn Phillips of Smithland, visited their parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Phillips, last week end.

Mr. Joe Crouse, who was stricken with paralysis several days ago, is slowly improving.

Crawford Barnett and Miss Evalina Holt, a well known young couple of this vicinity, were married in Paducah Saturday.

"The Boy and Girl in High School"

The boy and girl in the high school feel the rising tides of strength and vigor, and imagine that they have even more strength and endurance than the adults. But they are still far from the toughness of later years, when the tissues have gradually matured and hardened, then they will realize their strength and vigor.

In olden times the adults ran away from home, now we send the boy and girl to school and college, ere, beyond the reach of well-meaning neighbors. A friend, he tries the experiment of life; makes his blunders; experiences success and failure, joy and sorrow, finds himself, his strength and weakness, and grows into manhood. He does not know his real strength, much less his weakness. He is very loyal to his associates, as is shown by his group games, his class or society feeling, and his school spirit. He cannot stand alone.

He is a mixture of contradictions, an enigma to himself and to others. He might as well say, "My name is Lexion, for we are many." In the ferment of young life all that is trifling and worthless comes to the surface, but the strong and sweet lie beneath the froth.

His conception of the meaning and value of time are hardly clearer than those of a child. He cannot play a waiting game. If the sun shines today, it will always remain cloudless; if the maid of his adoration has frowned, she will never smile again. He lives on the delectable mountains or in the depths of the valley of humiliation, more frequently in the latter region than we suspect. He cannot help but keep his blunders and failures to himself. Nature puts a shell around the chicken embryo to keep out intruders during the period of embryonic development. She puts a similar shell around the boy during this epoch in his development. He does not share these thoughts with us, but reserve them for friends of his own age. The boy is loyal to his friends and often generous to their faults, this is the feeling of heart, out of which are the issues of life. Paul places love, with faith and hope, far above knowledge, which vanisheth away, for we know in part. The heart is often truly as wise as the head. Socrates said that his business was that of a midwife to bring great ideas to birth. The teacher's business is to bring to birth high aims and ideals, strong purposes and a higher education to the boy and girl.

The formal education of most boys and girls ends with high school, now he parts with the teacher. They must send him out into life with a powerful impulse toward all that is grand and lofty. Where one pupil goes to college five or more will go directly into life. The high school, and more essentially the college, is the place where the student acquires the largest possible amount of learning and intellectual discipline, but growth and development of all the powers, and efficiency, a large and full life. When they have attained these, learning will come almost of itself. Thus the high school will accomplish its chief end and purpose; and the college will receive stronger, keener, more vigorous and earnest, better developed and hence better prepared students.

It will draw, in the teaching profession the young blood and enthusiasm, the brawn and brain, the power and efficiency. I believe that we will agree that the greatest human need is the development of the highest moral and intellectual ideals; and that character is formed early, at least in tendency, it will improve, grow and strengthen. We also believe that character is formed in the school room, and this is its period of most rapid development. Who ever wishes to develop a strong character must go deeper than the intellect, they must mold the feelings and reach the will, we must arouse purpose as well as enthusiasm. Some how we must train the unstable boy and girl to steadfastness and perseverance, to self-control, to training is exceedingly slow and difficult, and requires inexhaustible faith and patience, as well as patience, as well as sympathy, insight, and skill. We must train our boys and girls to walk the streets and live in the world with heroes and heroines. Heroism evoked by hero-worship is the central thought of history from Gideon and his three hundred to Sherman at Winchester, changing a fleeing mob into an army of heroes. Virtue streams out from strong character like electricity from a dynamo, character cannot be taught, but it is exceedingly infectious; and good is more infectious than evil.

The chief business of schools is to bring the pupil and teacher near enough together so that the miracle will work itself. We must be sympathetic, for sympathy is the cable along which the magnetic power of personality flows. We must be of one mind, and courageous, else the child or man will not trust us.

Evidently we must catch this personality from some one else, and can transmit only what we have received. No one of us is quite big enough to fill the place assigned to us. We must live in constant association with the best and noblest souls. We can easily find them among our immediate neighbors, if we search aright; if not, we must seek them in literature and history. We must gain assistance to what Heine has called, "the Apostolic succession of great souls, the only people who understand anything in the world." We cannot be sufficiently proud of our calling, or sufficiently humbled by the smallness of our attainments or accomplishments. We are doing something still bigger and better, we are working for the development of our race. We mould it into conformity with what is deepest and most permanent in environment. Hence all powers of nature are with us. We cast in our efforts with the irresistible tide of events as it sweeps on toward a better age. Let us "be strong and of a very good sort."

Clubs To Send Scholastic Winners

The Young Business Men's Club voted to give $15, to help defray the expenses of sending the Murray High school scholastic winners at the District Scholastic events at Murray College, last week end to Lexington where they will enter the state tournament.

The winners to go are: Miss Orendine Berry winner of the violin solo event for five years, and Yancey Bennett, winner of the cornet solo event for four years.

The club voted to ask the Rotarians for a similar amount and in case the amount was not given to double their original amount. The question was presented to the Rotarians at noon today by T. A. Sanford and Coach Roy Stewart.

T. Waldrop presided at the meeting in the absence of Robert Smith, president, and Maurice Orendine, vice-president. T. A. Sanford, T. Stedd and Roy Stewart were named as a committee to select club projects. Five new members were voted into the club: Waylon Rayburn, Boody Russell, Joe Baker, C. E. Morris and H. L. Stedd.

Morgan Hears Dams Will Be Put In Budget

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, Tennessee Valley Authority Chairman, said today he had been informed indirectly that Budget Director Douglas would recommend that funds be provided to begin construction of four new dams on the Tennessee, and its tributaries.

The dams would be the Aurora Landing in west Tennessee, cost, $40,000,000, Pickwick Landing down stream from Muscle Shoals, a $25,000,000 project, and two dams probably on the French Broad and Hiwassee rivers.

Morgan said his engineers were studying the proposed canal to connect the Tombigbee and Tennessee rivers for a short water route from the Tennessee valley to the gulf.

Army engineers also are studying the proposed Tombigbee-Tennessee canal, which would trim about 600 miles from the Tennessee to the Ohio and thence down the Mississippi to reach the gulf.

Directors Meet in Paducah

Directors of Aurora Dam Clubs of West Kentucky and Tennessee met in Paducah Tuesday at the Irvin Cobb Hotel. Progress in the campaign to secure funds from the federal government to provide for the erection of a hydroelectric dam and power plant on the Tennessee river at Aurora were discussed. It was indicated that prospects for obtaining an appropriation are brightening.

Last week's meeting of the directors was held at Murray. Efforts are being made to keep interest in this project at fever heat throughout this district so that enthusiasm shall at no time be lacking.

The next meeting will be held at Union City, Tenn., next Tuesday at 12:15 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the city hall.

Have Lost Vital Nerve Force?

"I slept but very little, my appetite and digestion were poor and I was losing weight daily," said Mrs. Lena M. Perkins of 29 May Ave., Lexington, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery relieved me of all this misery in a short time, my headaches disappeared when I took Newum, tablet 30 cts., bottle $1.00. Large size, table, or liquid, $1.35. ## Corn-Hog Sign-up Begins Next Week

County Agent John H. Bondurant has announced that corn-hog contracts can be signed at the court house in Murray next Wednesday and Thursday.

With the completion of the tobacco sign-up this week, the corn-hog reduction plan will be pushed immediately, he said.

Farmers who sign the contract will reduce their corn acreage by 25 per cent from the average production in 1932 and 1933. They will receive in benefit payments 30 cents a bushel on the number of bushels of corn they would have grown on the land removed from production.

A farmer who grows an average of 10 acres of corn in 1932 and 1933, he would agree to grow only 8 acres this year. If his average yield is 30 bushels to the acre on the kind of land rented to the government, he would receive 30 cents a bushel for the two acres taken out of production, or $18.

If a farmer sold an average of 12 pigs in 1932 and 1933, he would agree to sell not more than 9 pigs this year, and he would receive $5 a head on the nine head, or $45.

The corn-hog plan does not regulate a farmer's sale of the corn he grows on the 80 per cent of his past acreage, or the sale of the hogs he raises under his 75 per cent quota. He may sell his corn and hogs in the usual manner.

Eighteen storage houses were built and several remodeled in Letcher county.
